

GLAD Conference 2011

Resources of Hope: Facing the future of learning and teaching in HE Art & Design

12TH APRIL 2011

COVENTRY UNIVERSITY

The GLAD symposium will discuss the pedagogy of art & design against the new conditions of a market-driven sector in which teaching and learning practices will also confront notions of value, cost and price.

THEMES

Working more routinely in partnerships and in new configurations of practice

Working with business models within HE art and design and what this means for our practice

Resilience—the way academics, leaders and managers will learn to respond to the new environment

How we sustain our commitment to innovation, diversity and widening participation

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS INCLUDE

National Teaching Fellows Dr Alison Shreeve and Terry Finnigan

Sally Taylor Director of the London Centre for Arts and Cultural Exchange

Steve Harvey Managing Director Foundation On Campus, Cambridge Education Group

Dr Alison Prendiville, Deputy Director of Centre for Competitive Creative Design, C4D